Weld Resigns Top Post;

Kirkpatrick Steps Up

By DAVID GEORGANTAS

With the resignation of Skip Weld as student government president of Greenfield Community College, new officers were appointed to succeed him and vice-president Scott Kirkpatrick — now the Student Senate President.

Scott Kirkpatrick was appointed president in accordance with the student Senate Constitution, which states that the vice-president fulfill the duties and obligations normally attributed to the president when such said termination occurs during the academic year.

Nancy Howes, at a senate meeting held Wednesday night, was elected to succeed Kirkpatrick as vice-president.

When questioned about Weld's withdrawal from Greenfield Community College, Dean of Students, Clement Gainty, stated that prior to the end of last semester, Weld informed him of his resignation from office of president and withdrawal as a student at the College. According to Gainty, Weld withdrew to seek full-time employment.

Gainty also said the senate will continue to discuss and resolve any new issues. The Student Senate will meet with him each week on Wednesdays at 2:00 to discuss matters concerning senate proceedings.

According to Gainty, student senators are independently minded, capable of maintaining and resolving any situations without the direction, administration, and supervision of Gainty himself. Gainty, as well as the senate members, prefer to have the senate conducted in this manner.

"I view the student senate", Gainty continued, "as the voice of the student body. When I want to see how students feel about certain issues, I contact the student senate. It is definitely legitimate to consider them the representatives of the student body".

Gainty also said that in order for the senate to be successful, it is vitally necessary that a strong relationship be established between the senate, administration, and the student body, and that this establishment be maintained in order for everyone to acquire an overall awareness and understanding of the current issues at hand.

Round Two

At Dance

Last Friday night, Feb. 6, there was a fight at the College dance. The fight, according to information acquired by Meryl Sackin, acting director of student activities, began when Gary Gadreaux, a law enforcement major and rookie cop from Turners Falls, allegedly began harassing Paul Savage, a data processing student.

"Apparently Gadreaux provoked Savage by calling him a 'long-haired hippie', says Sackin, 'at least this is what the majority of the spectators have told me'."

According to Sackin, a security guard was struck in an attempt to break up the brawl. The student activities committee is now contemplating hiring a Greenfield Police Officer for the safety of the next dance.

However, police may not be the answer. Miss Sackin said, "Ed Peterson verbally tried to stop the brawl by telling Gadreaux 'Cool it, the pigs are coming.' Gadreaux replied, 'I am the pigs!'."

Dean Gainty is going to speak with both students involved in the brawl. Also Miss Sackin has decided not to let Gary Gadreaux into any more college dances because this is reportedly his second offense.

Sports

Round-up

By GREG GERARDE

The Red Barons Men's Basketball Team traveled to Worcester, Mass. for a holiday tournament and were beaten in both games.

The holidays seemed to have some effect on the defense as G.C.C. allowed 88 points in both games to give them a record of 2-4.

In the first game W.I.T.I. was the Red Barons first opponent and as the first half ended G.C.C. found itself down by 11 points and lost the game by 17 points 88-71.

Scott Finch was high scorer for G.C.C. with 21 points followed by Bob Robillard with 17 points and Larry Fisher adding 17.

Poor defense allowed W.I.T.I. to score easily as G.C.C. started to press to get back in the game. The inside work of Finch and Robillard made W.I.T.I. work for their points in the first half but it takes five players and a bench to win basketball games.

Administration Searching For Fiscal Solution

By BRUCE M. ALBERT & ARTHUR SHAW

"Each member of our faculty is, in effect, subsidizing one student," President Lewis O. Turner told the college's advisory board recently.

The college is trying to get budget cuts restored in the coming fiscal year so that members of the college faculty and professional staff can catch up with inflation. They have not had a salary increase of any kind since December 30, 1973, Turner said. He also said that unless the college can get state funds for its library in the coming fiscal year it will lose matching federal funds.

He said that he and members of his staff have met recently with representatives of the House and Senate committees on ways and means and with the Massachusetts Board of Regional Community Colleges to discuss the college's fiscal problems.

New Scholarships Now Available

Beginning in September, 1976, as many as 250 graduates of Massachusetts two-year colleges are expected to receive a total of $200,000 toward the expenses of attending any of twenty-four selected independent four-year colleges in the Greater Boston area. Support of the new program will be provided by Permanent Charity Fund, Greater Boston's endowed community foundation, to make it possible for more graduates of the state's two-year colleges to afford the educational opportunities available in these higher tuition institutions.

To qualify, students must expect to be graduates of accredited two-year colleges in Massachusetts and must plan to pursue a full-time academic program. Awards will be based on demonstrated financial need, will be for a full academic year, and will be renewable for a second year of study if the student remains in good standing and continues to demonstrate financial need. The scholarship may be as large as $1,000 each and may be supplemented by an institution's own financial aid resources as well as federal or state educational grants.

Interested students should contact Sally Sundstrom. She will then apply directly to the participating four-year colleges, which will administer the Permanent Charity Fund scholarships as part of their normal process of admitting transfer students.

The four-year colleges participating in the program are: Babson College, Bentley College, Boston College, Boston University, Brandeis University, Curry College, Eastern Nazarene College, Emerson College, Emmanuel College, Gordon College, Harvard-

Rep. Arthur J. McKenna of Springfield and committee associate counsel Thomas C. Wojtkowski of Pittsfield spent a morning at the college recently discussing the college's fiscal problems and planning for the coming fiscal year.

In its efforts to reduce state expenditures, the Commonwealth used fiscal year 1975 as a base line and directed all state agencies and institutions to reduce their fiscal year 1976 budgets by various percentages from that base. Dean of Administration Robert W. Gailey explained to Rep. McKenna and Counsel Wojtkowski that since Greenfield Community College had operated only 10-12 of fiscal 75 in its new campus, with attendant higher costs in the new facility, that using 1975 as a base for budget cuts has put the college in a poor fiscal situation.

According to Gailey, there should have been an additional $100,000 added to that base to cover the additional maintenance personnel required by the new facility.

Turner presented the Ways and Means representatives with a detailed analysis of the college's fiscal 77 budget request: the college is asking $45,926 for salary increases for professional faculty and staff — which has had no increase of any kind since December 30, 1973 — and $200,004 to restore 19 faculty and staff positions knocked out by budget cuts. Turner said that this year everyone has taken on extra work to accommodate the budget cuts but did not think it realistic to ask faculty and staff to do so another year. The alternative to increasing personnel account, he said, is to cut back enrollment.

In addition to the $245,930 being asked for personnel, Turner is asking $115,065 in additional funds for the library, anticipated increases in the cost of energy, inflation allowance, and overtime and sick leave.

Governor Michael Dukakis has requested that Greenfield Community College operate in fiscal '77 with the same financial appropriations of fiscal '75. According to Dean Gailey, the governor's request is inequitable for several reasons.

Inflation is another factor which Gailey is using in the attempt to convince legislators that Dukakis's request is unfair. When Dean Gailey was asked to comment on the effects of Dukakis's inequitable request he said, "We have been cut worse than any other community college in the system. Our last salary increase for professional faculty and staff was Dec. 30, 1973. How are our professors to meet the rising cost of living? How is the college going to meet the anticipated rise in fuel cost?"

The college has requested from the state $45,926 for salary increases and $200,004 for the restoration of nineteen vacant personnel positions. It has also requested $35,000 for anticipated fuel increases, $35,715 for inflation allowance, and $4,350 for overtime and sick leave.

There are other negative effects of Dukakis's request. The GCC student may have a Library Fee next year. If Dean Gailey's request for $40,000 for Library resources is not met, Greenfield Community College may lose the Federal Education Reference Material Funds.

In all, the college is requesting $360,995. If this money is not appropriated, our corridors may be very chilly next winter.

Dean of students Clement Gainty reported that there are 1,380 students enrolled in the spring semester at Greenfield Community College.

BOEG AWARDS — Credit available immediately in the college store for the purchase of books and supplies to be charged to your Boeg account.

The Business Office has calculated the balance due you after settlement of unpaid tuition and fees. The college store will request that you specify how much you want to hold in the college store.

The remainder will be paid by check by the business office approximately February 26.

Speaks Here

By MIKE HMIELESKI

Suppose they gave a president and no one came? Well they did, and nobody didn't. Unless the fireplace lounge was stamped after I departed, where Robert L. Kelleher, a Democratic presidential hopeful — spell that with a capitol H-O-P-E-F-U-L — spent a quiet, non-very-much-producing-of-anything-noonday-visit here at G.C.C. probably wondering where all the voting students were hiding.

A few people did stop by to watch the Montana Democrat being interviewed by a TV32 news team and heard Kelleher speak of his Parliamentary Platform and hopes of capturing a fair per cent of primary votes allowing him to open some eyes and hopefully a good share of delegates to the Democratic Convention.

Kelleher's Parliamentary Platform issues on the checking of reckless bureaucratic spending by requiring the heads of money spending bureaucratic agencies be elected by the people. Thus having the two parties submit alternate platforms, giving the people a clear cut choice to approve and elect the platform of their liking.

Elections would be based on issues, not personalities, under Kelleher's scheme and would encourage bigger turnouts at the polls.

Fuel for thought, in 1974, a non-presidential election year, only 38 per cent of all registered voters reached the polls to cast a ballot. Hum, suppose they gave an election and . . . ?

A Bicentennial Warning to My Children

By PAUL RENAUD

Here we are, in what seems like a hopeless situation, myself, and five mouths to feed, huddled together before a shanty gas heater in the desolation of a dark ghetto flat. Welfare cannot alleviate a situation that affords us no luxuries; just the clothes on our backs and a meal a day that helps us linger to the next. Myself and my children, victims of systems beyond our control. Powerless to break out of a life that drains us of every resource. We pray to God that tomorrow we will have the strength to survive in a dog-eat-dog world. Our situation remains the same; timeless.

We have no central heat, a bathroom that we shudder to use, no telephone, and an electric system that has just barely survived a century of use. Our only transportation are the feet we have come to depend on.

Our prized possession is an antiquated television set, a useless morsel to a society that junks the old for the sake of buying the new.

My husband and myself, we had visions of the American dream, and we attempted to play it, their way.

We were eager to make it in a world that seemed determined not to let us. We were ready to take care of ourselves and a growing family.

Unemployment, inflation, even tyrannical landlords did not deter us. A war that helped the establishment to maintain control did.

Myself, and my children, gazing into the sterile flame that prevents old man winter from moving into our home, wondering, why?

Should I deceive my children with the American myth? Will they understand and accept the fact that some will live the good life at the expense of other, less fortunate like ourselves?

Or should I encourage them to change a system that has taken more than it has offered? The decision is theirs to make.

I can offer them no other evidence than what they will remember as children.

I can only hope that they won't have to give their children the same warning that I am giving them.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor:

The Greenfield and Montague Transportation Area will begin commuter bus service to the University of Massachusetts from Greenfield, Montague, and Leverett on January 26, 1976, the first day of the winter semester. GCC students and employees may wish to use this transportation service to commute from Amherst, Leverett, Sunderland, Montague Center, and Turners Falls. See attached timetable.

Commuter passes worth 44 one-way trips between the Greenfield-Montague-Leverett area and Amherst can be purchased at 382 Deerfield St. in Greenfield and from the Greenfield-Amherst bus driver. Cost to commuters for the passes:

Greenfield-Turners Falls-Amherst passes: $35.00

Montague Ctr.-Sunderland-Amherst passes: $25.00

44-trip commuter passes will allow persons needing transportation less than five days a week as well as those riding each week day to ride at reduced rates.

The GMTA is inaugurating this service with high hopes of attracting a sufficient number of passengers to continue and expand service during the winter semester and next year. We would very much appreciate your assistance in disseminating information to GCC students and employees about the new service. Enclosed are timetables for distribution to other departments in the College. Others are available upon request.

Please call if you wish to have more information. Thank you.

GCC Spirit

By GREG GERARDE

What's wrong with our school spirit at G.C.C.!

Students seem to be uninvolved in the school system and have no spirit. There is more to college than just classes and homework. What happened to enthusiastic students attending basketball games and cheering at every basket and rebound and at baseball games yelling at every hit and diving catch. But who can forget those cheer persons whether they be women or men. These people got out and led the fans in cheers for the team. They added excitement and entertainment to the sometimes boring world of sports.

The G.C.C. athletes work hard trying to give the school some athletic sporting events for the student, faculty, and area people to watch and enjoy. All you can find at some games are maybe a handful of students and the coach's children. G.C.C. fields basketball for men and women and they play about fifteen games plus tournament bids, baseball and softball at G.C.C. which have winning seasons every year, and even a 1974 men's baseball championship for the State of Mass., and a pretty fair tennis team, golf team and soccer team. G.C.C. also has club football which for the past two seasons has won a trophy and club hockey, club field hockey and many intramurals.

Remember when you could go to your high school games and find half the student body and half the faculty cheering along with the cheerleaders and what of the college games on T.V. where the seats are all filled with involved people yelling and watching, that is why they have a home court advantage in most sports because the home court has its cheering spectators helping their team to victory.

G.C.C. is unique not only do they lack cheer persons but they lack cheering spectators to let the team know you are watching and enjoying them and give the teams an extra edge.

Margot Asquith says spirit is "An inward flame; a lamp the world blows upon but never puts out". Some of us need a flame under us to get with it and become involved.

SPORTS—

Worcester J.C. was the next team to face G.C.C. and more loose defense by the Red Barons let Worcester score 88 points and eventually lose by nine points.

Worcester's Ray, Doherty and Fields combined for 64 of Worcester's 88 points. Scott Finch led the Barons with 20 points and Bob Reiley also had 20 points with Larry Fisher hitting for eleven. G.C.C. hit only 17 of 31 from the foul line as the Barons finished with two losses and no wins for the tournament.

The second half of the men's basketball schedule started on a losing note as Berkshire C.C. crushed Greenfield C.C. 77-56 and left the Red Barons with a 2-5 record in league play.

The 56 points by G.C.C. was the lowest point total by the Barons this year as only two players were in double figures; Brian Dee with 10 and Bob Robillard with 16. Scott Finch, G.C.C.'s leading scorer was held to 8 points. In the second half G.C.C. could only manage 25 points after scoring 31 points in the first half.

Because of a forfeit with Springfield Tech. C.C. and a forfeit with Middlesex C.C., G.C.C. has registered two wins.

Springfield Tech. failed to suit up a team and Middlesex played G.C.C. back on December 13 and beat them 84-81 but failed to meet some of the conference rules.

On January 31 the Red Barons played one of their best games in years as they walked over Quinsigamond C.C. 91-73 to record their third win in eight league games.

Newcomers Brian Dee and Mike Zewski combined for 38 points as four players scored in double figures, Dee with 38, Finch had 22, Wood with 12 and Zewski hitting for 10.

In the second half G.C.C. hit a sizzling 69 per cent of their shots from the floor to pull ahead to stay. Scott Finch added 18 points in the second half and Steve Wood followed with 10 in that fifty point half.

With this big win and some good play by some newcomers and the other players G.C.C. looks to be a new team in the second half of the season.

WOMENS BAKSETBALL

While many of us were on vacation the Women's Basketball Team was busy sharpening up their skills in a tournament at Williams College.

The first team to play GCC are the always tough Berkshire CC team and same cold shooting by GCC allowed Berkshire to win as GCC scored only 28 points and BCC put up 52 points for the win. Cheryl Carey's 12 points was high for GCC followed by Cathy Clark's 6 points and Donna Tudryn's 8 points.

The second team to face GCC was the host team Williams College and again some low scoring by both teams made the game close, only to have GCC edge by Williams 31-30 and even up their tournament record at 1-1 and tie for first place. Carey, Clark and Tudryn were again the spark plugs for the Red Barons as they got ready for Mattatuck Community College on January 17.

— Forumfoto by Mike Hmielecki

On January 17 the Women's Basketball Team hosted Mattatuck CC and beat them 53-43 as they took the first game of their region 21 schedule.

With GCC leading at half time by a slim four points 24-20, they opened up to a ten point lead late in the game and coasted in for their third win in four games.

Cheryl Carey pumped in 26 points to lead all scores while Donna Tudryn and Julie Brockelman followed with 11 and eight points to pace the GCC attack.

On January 26 the Women's Basketball Team was again on the road as they traveled to Pittsfield to battle Berkshire CC and lost 68-62 to give them a 1-1 conference record.

Trailing by 20 points with 10 minutes left in the game GCC made a strong comeback and cut Berkshire's lead to four on the offense of Julie Brockelman and Cheryl Carey.

The women's basketball team has been losing some close ones and the game against North Adams was no different as they lost 45-43 to even their record at 3-3.

Barb Gervais was high for GCC with 17 points followed by Julie Brockelman's 11 points, Cheryl Carey, GCC's high scorer was held to just 6 points.

GCC played host to Quinsigamond CC and again saw a final rally fall short for a 43-40 loss.

The Red Barons started very slow in the first half as they scored only 18 points, but came back strong in the second half to make the game close and almost pull out a win.

Julie Brockelman led GCC with 19 points followed by Sue Supinski with 9 points and Barb Gervais adding 6 points. This leaves GCC with a 3-3 league mark for the season with Leicester Junior College next at home.

The women's team fell short of victory as they dropped a cliffhanger to Leicester Junior College 53-51.

The clock has gone against GCC the past four games as they lost by a total of 13 points in four games.
